

PHILOSOPHY: WHY AND WHAT FOR?

Volume edited by
Ryszard Mordarski and Marek Kazimierz Siwiec

CONTENTS

Notes on the Authors	7
Introduction (Ryszard Mordarski and Marek Kazimierz Siwiec)	11
Stanisław Judycki, On the Hope Given by Philosophy	17
Zbigniew Drozdowicz, What Philosophers should Learn and What Others Could Learn from Them?	29
Adam Chmielewski, The Need for Philosophy	41
Artur Szutta, The Need for Philosophy	55
Krzysztof Saja, The Usefulness of Philosophy	65
Marek Lechniak, Philosophy Written with a Small “ph”	75
Marek Pepliński, Philosophizing and the True Knowledge of Human Being	85
Maciej Woźniczka, Philosophy as a Compulsory Subject To Be Taught at Schools – An Attempt at Defining the Issue	99
Martyna Koszkało, The Role of the Philosophical Service Courses in Higher Education	119
Ks. Józef Kozuchowski, Teaching of Ethics at Schools and the Safe Life, according to Robert Spaemann	129
Krzysztof Śleziński, Tutoring and Its Supportive Role in Philosophical Education ...	143
Ks. Sylwester Warzyński, On the Need for Philosophy in Miserable Times	155
Daniel Roland Sobota, Towards the Poor Philosophy	175
Ireneusz Ziemiński, Praising Philosophy	207
Marek Kazimierz Siwiec, Philosophy as Task and Vantage-Point of Creator	217
Ryszard Mordarski, Philosophy and Politics. An Interpretation of Plato’s Cave	229

WHY PHILOSOPHY? PHILOSOPHY AND MODERN WORLD,
THE SOURCE EXPERIENCE, PATHS TO PHILOSOPHY

Participants in the discussion:

Zbigniew Drozdowicz, Piotr Gutowski, Stanisław Judycki, Andrzej Szahaj, and Renata Ziemińska.

Marek K. Siwiec – the Discussion Leader.

The record of the discussion made Elizabeth Rogucka.

237